1,000 CHICKENS AND EACH WITH A VOICE

ALL VARIETIES OF BARN YARD FOWLS ON EXHIBITION AT THE RINK THIS WEEK.

GREATEST SHOW YET

Entries This Year Exceed Those of Any Previous Show.—More Arrive Today.

A thousand chickens! All varieties, all sizes, all colors. From the common Rhode Island Red to the fantastic Houdan; from the tiny Bantam to the huge white turkeys; from the snowy white Leghorns to the opaline splendence of the great black Orpingtons. And each with a voice a bit more strident than that of the common, poorly bred bird that never gets near an exhibition. Each with an arrogance and disdain of the common folk who come to see these hump-backed fowls that would do justice to Charles the Great.

Officials of the Southern Wisconsin Poultry association had dared to hope for a display of five hundred birds; last night six hundred had been placed on exhibit and the express offices were still piled high with shipping cases full of prize birds for the exhibition. In the nine years that the association has been putting on shows, never has there been one with so many birds on exhibition, never has the show drawn its exhibits from so wide a field, never has there been such a variety of breeds and colors. There is only one show in the state which rivals it, in point of numbers, variety or prizes awarded; that is the Milwaukee fair show. The Janesville show, however, has many other features which the exhibitors in the past, and according to those who know, a chicken fancier is the hardest man in the world to satisfy.

All day yesterday, before the exhibit had been placed, and in reality, before the opening of the show, the Rink was visited by a large number of spectators and farmers from the country. Today with the placing of all the birds, officials expect record crowds. The association has purchased a large number of birds from the country. Today with the placing of all the birds, officials expect record crowds. The association has purchased a large number of birds from the country. Today with the placing of all the birds, officials expect record crowds.

Today is the big day for entries. Many farmers who were unable to enter their birds earlier, prodded by the continuation of the entry limit and shipped their prize offerings to arrive today. All day long officials and employees of the association have been placing the incoming birds in pens and arranging for the judging, which will begin tomorrow. Owners were busy looking over their own beauties with proud eyes and anxiously studying the good points of strange birds. Heated arguments over the relative merits of the two black-legged Bantams always drew knots of interested listeners. Timid conjectures on the part of the ignorant city folk elicited snickers from their country cousins. Snickers from their country cousins. Snickers from their country cousins.

One of the most popular exhibits with the common layman is the duck show. Here are shown a great variety of breeds, including the bright, colorful and sombre hues; all quacking in different keys and sticking out their heads in the most suggestive manner whenever a visitor approaches their coops. Pens of geese are also attracted much attention; they are the giants of the show, and yet are easily the most timid, waddling creatures on the exhibit. The cage and then turning to eye the innocent onlooker with a most vindictive glance.

Each time the melodious tones of the electric piano break into the almost rural quiet of the show, each particular bird seems to take it as a personal affront and raises his or her voice in angry objection to the suits of the bland tones. The result is startling. All those who have imagined that one rooster can assist most effectively at the cracking of dawn should be on hand at the rink to hear a thousand similar voices raised in violent protest. It is inspiring; an anthem of the open spaces; and yet is not a good advertisement for the back to the land movement.

SMALL FRACTION OF TAXES PAID SO FAR THIS MONTH

During the first fifteen days of January or for the first half of the month, allowed the people of this city to pay their taxes without the imposition of a fine City Treasurer George W. Nye has taken in a total of $89,299.19 in the city taxes out of a total tax levy of over two hundred and forty thousand dollars. In other words, one-half the taxes have been paid. This is but one-third of the total number of the figures that the remaining two-thirds of the people who have not yet paid their taxes will pay in more than two-thirds of the total taxes. Possibly an indication that the poor people pay their taxes more promptly than the rich ones.

TRAIN BLOCKS ROAD; CRASH INJURES TWO

Automobile Driven By J. B. Blakeman of Madison Crashes Into Freight at Atton Monday Evening.

J. B. Blakeman and Miss Wadsworth, both of Madison, who were returning from Chicago by automobile, were injured, slightly, when their machine crashed into a freight train on the Northwestern tracks at Atton. The train, completely blocked, was without lights or any signal to indicate a grade crossing. Mr. Blakeman was driving at about twenty miles an hour when the accident occurred. The cause of the crash was the fact that their injuries were not more severe. Miss Wadsworth was thrown through the windshield and sustained the more serious injuries. She was brought to the Mercy Hospital in an ambulance, where it was found necessary to make an X-ray examination of one of her limbs to determine its condition. She will be removed to her home in Madison late today. Mr. Blakeman suffered minor bruises. When he saw the freight train blocking his way he was at a short distance from it. He supposed that the road must take a sharp turn and had slowed down his car for the purpose of negotiating it. He was not aware of the freight train entirely blocked the roadway.

Residents of Atton expressed indignation that the railroad company had failed to provide a crossing for this village. Inasmuch as the village has its own electric light plant which supplies current to most of the homes. The railroad crossing, however, is left in darkness.

Mr. and Mrs. Blakeman accompanied by Miss Wadsworth made the trip overland to Chicago, where Mrs. Blakeman remained.

Leading Up to It

Some Scotch yokels were enjoying the fun of the fair. Seeing an old duffer in the street, a few of them went over to him, and one, handing him a twopenny, asked him to play the "Battle of Stirling Bridge."

The old duffer took the money and went rapping away the same as before. The yokels getting tired of this, the spokesman again went over to the duffer and said to him, "Hi, man; that's no the 'Battle of Stirling Bridge.'"

"I can," replied the old duffer. "That's the skirlin' before the battle."

OFFICIAL EXPLAINS HOW TO GET A LOAN UNDER FEDERAL ACT

Method of Obtaining a Loan Under New U. S. Farm Loan Act Explained by Member of Bureau
By Frank R. Wilson.

On the Federal Farm Loan Bureau.
Washington, Jan. 16.—The right to borrow under the Farm Loan act is extended to farmers and prospective farmers.

Prospective or prospective farmers may wish to borrow group themselves from farm loan associations, each association being composed of ten or more farmers and each association must have a minimum of at least $10,000.

To join a farmer merely makes application to the secretary-treasurer of the loan association in his community. If he has been organized, he must sign the required number of endorsements and organize an association.

The Federal Farm Loan Board at Washington will furnish, on application, a blank form of articles of association for such organization. The organization must adopt these articles and sign them, and the secretary-treasurer makes affidavit thereto.

The association then elects five or more directors and the directors then elect a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and a loan committee of three members.

As soon as the Federal Land bank of that district is ready for business it will provide this local association with additional blanks, including an application for a charter and blanks for the loan committee to use in the work of appraising the farms.

As soon as the loan committee is elected it may proceed to appraise the farms upon which mortgages are to be placed. Its report which must be submitted, must accompany the signed articles of association and be filed with the Federal Land bank of that district.

When this is done the appraiser of the Federal Land bank will come to inspect the security offered and accept or reject the report of the loan committee. If accepted, the farmer may borrow more than $10,000 nor less than $100. No National Farm Loan association may start with aggregate loans less than $20,000.

John Smith, a farmer, desires to borrow $2000 he invests in the stock of his local loan association one-twentieth of this amount, or $100.

This association then invests this money in the stock of the Federal Land bank, enabling it thus to increase its capital so as to make another loan of $2000 to some other farmer. The borrower gets his instrument back when he pays off his loan, or he may turn it in as the last payment on his loan.

Farmer are required to form these organizations so that they eventually will control the Federal Land banks.
Each loan association votes in the election of the directors of its Federal Land bank. Each association elects a loan committee which values the land of its members subject to the approval of the land bank appraiser and the Federal Land bank. Each association has a board of directors which has the power to exclude or admit new members by a two-thirds vote.

It is through this local loan association that the farmer invests the money to be used for increasing the capital stock of the Federal Land banks, and this is how the farmer comes into possession of his own banking system.

Farmer are permitted to borrow up to 30 per cent of the appraised value of their land and 20 per cent of the appraised value of the permanent insured improvements thereon.
It is not necessary for a borrower to be an actual land owner when he borrows, but the landless man must use the borrowed money to purchase land which he intends to immediately begin farming.

Another chapter will be devoted to this feature.

HERO OF TWO WARS WEDDED FIFTY YEARS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monroe, Wis., Jan. 16.—Monday afternoon from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock, Col.
and Mrs. Samuel F. Schadel, both of Monroe, celebrated their fiftieth anniversary of marriage. Their friends and neighbors called to help them celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. They were united in marriage on Jan. 16, 1867, on a farm between Orangeville and Rock Grove, Ill., and a few months later removed to Monroe, where they have continued to make their home ever since.

Col. Schadel is a hero of two wars, having served during both the Rebellion and the Spanish-American war.
While the organization of the local Guards in 1882, he affiliated with that organization, serving first as lieutenant and later being elected captain. He was in command of the company of the Wisconsin National Guards. The company was organized in 1886. He was in command of the First Regiment during the Spanish-American war and by reason of seniority of service was entitled to promotion to the rank of colonel, but politics was played and the honors went to a younger man. Col.
Schadel served twenty-six years in the Wisconsin National Guards. The company was organized in 1886. He was in command of the First Regiment

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

January 15, 1917.

The Janesville Daily Gazette, City.

Gentlemen: I was surprised to read the several articles regarding diphtheria, and that comparatively so few are kept. I began keeping a diary forty-nine years ago January 1st, and bought my fiftieth for 1917. I believe it is advisable for all young men to keep an account of their every day transactions for many reasons.

It is surprising to hear people make assertions almost daily that they never saw much weather, no matter whether it be hot or cold, wet or dry. In glancing over the past December record of temperature, I notice that we had the first zero day December 14th, being 10 below. This led to comparison of previous years as follows: In 1913 there was not a zero day in December; in 1914 it began December 14th, and we had ten days below zero during the balance of the month, averaging 7-10ths degrees. In 1915 December 14th and 28th were just zero, and in 1916 December 14th it was ten below and averaged during the following twelve days, including December 14th, 7 1/2 degrees below zero.

You will notice that the first zero weather of three years occurred on the 14th of December. If the present January weather continues as to date, it will be a record breaker and prove the old saying "the Wisconsin fog crop is the surest crop in the state."

WEEDS OF SORROW.

Don't water weeds of sorrow with the tears of grief and gloom, for in the mental garden such as they should have no room; but dry your flood of tears and smile, the past is dead and gone, collect your troubles, griefs and woes and put them into pawn, or chuck them in a gunny-sack and tie them up for fair, and dig a hole that's plenty large to hold this sack of care. Then toss 'er in and cover it and seal it with cement, and have a good old hearty laugh—it doesn't cost a cent. Then face about and laugh some more, keep smiling as you go, your step will be elastic, and you will much younger grow; and you will be so busy helping others make the grade, you'll not have time to think of where your sack of care was laid, but climb right on and upward, till at last you've reached your goal—while all your cares and troubles tend to dust in you. —L. MARY'S CURLS.

"America's one greatest single contribution to art." That's what the curls popularized by Mary Pickford and adopted by scores of other youthful movie beauties is called in George Kibbie Turner's latest story, "The Smile Factory."

This tribute is spoken half seriously, half in irony.

"The little female ringlet," continues the speaker, "symbol and guarantee of all that is happiest and purest in our lives."

"It has been known and used before, it is true. For years, everywhere—in the most conservative heroine factories; in the old-established melodrama foundries. An axiom in art."

"But it remained for this country to build upon it the greatest art industry—judged either by gross or net receipts—the world has ever seen."

"It was not ever thus before. For the first time in the history of mankind purity and joy and innocence are reaping now their proper dividends."

NEW MYERS THEATRE.

"Go-To-It" the third annual New York Princess theatre success, which is by John L. Golden, John E. Hazard and Anne Caldwell will be the offering at the New Myers theatre next Sunday. "Go-To-It," which is described as a companion play to "Nobody Home" and "Very Good Eddie" is coming to this city with the original New York cast and production intact.

Expense has not been spared by Messrs. Comstock and Gest, the producers, in gathering together the acting company for "Go-To-It" as the cast contains the names of such famous comedians as Cross and Josephine, Percival Knight, Gertrude Vanderbilt, Charles Judels, Tyler Brooke, Helen Bond, Beth Franklyn, George Beane, Dan Marble, Gertrude Walker and Hilda Smith. A chorus of twenty-four contains the prize "Princess Princesses."

The gowns in "Go-To-It" are said to be the last word in designs, coming from the House of Fallis. The scenery was designed by Miss Elsie DeWolfe, and the staging was by William H. Post, with David Bennett arranging the dance numbers.

Musical numbers were written by John L. Golden, who wrote the lyrics for the latest New York Hippodrome success, "The Big Show." Mr. Hazard is co-author of "Turn to the Right," while Anne Caldwell wrote "Chin Chin" and "Pom-Pom."

"Go-To-It" is another sample of the new idea in musical comedy, following its predecessors "Nobody Home" and "Very Good Eddie," as to novelty and musical numbers. The formula for the making of a Princess theatre success is plenty of lipily laughter, out of the ordinary ideas, dress with pretty girls to demonstrate and singing tunes.

The engagement here is for one performance only, Sunday, Jan. 21.

"What Are We Doing to Keep the Homestead Home for the Kids," and many other interesting topics that will be cut open and handled for young and old, saint or sinner.

PROTEST LITERATURE TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS

(By Associated Press.)

Baltimore, Jan. 16.—A report denouncing objectionable literature in public schools and urging elimination of the "Merchant of Venice," "Christological Songs," and the "Teaching of the Bible Interpretively" was submitted today to the biennial council in union of American Hebrew congregation in session here.

MISS LEWIS PLEASES IN A SONG RECITAL

Janesville Contralto Gives a Delightful Program Last Evening at Library Hall.

A very appreciative audience gathered at Library hall last evening and listened to a very enjoyable program of song as given by Miss Ada Lewis, and presented by Prof. J. S. Taylor with Mrs. J. L. Wilcox as accompanist.

Miss Lewis surprised her friends, who had only heard her in parlor songs, with the richness and beauty of her tones and the dramatic quality given to these selections for a concert recital. In the two Shakespeare songs the quaint beauty of the words were brought out with new meaning, while the MacDowell group of songs, "Long Ago," "The Swan Bent Low," and "A Maid Sings Light," were sweet and appealing in their interpretation. The contrast of "Secrecy" with its mystic hint of hidden meanings, and "Aaah," which uttered its warnings with strenuous force, was noted with emphasis. But it was in the group of Indian songs, "The Place of Breaking Light," "From the Long Roars of the Sea," "Ho, Ye Warriors on the War-path," and "The Thunderbirds Come from the Caverns" that Miss Lewis was given full play, for all the varying tides of feeling of which the human heart is capable of showing. And in the "Dawn in the Desert" the fabled appeal to the sun was given with wonderful intensity of feeling.

The whole program was arranged to show the versatility and wide range of voice of Miss Lewis, and was a

Heart and Home Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson
Letters may be addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in care of The Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am twenty-one years old and I am engaged to a girl of eighteen. Do you think we are too young to get married?

What time should you leave a man's house when you go to see her?

(3) Sometimes when I go to my friend's house I will say something in fun and she will not take it for fun and gets angry about it and starts to fight. What would you do, fight with her or fight what she says? (4) What would you say if a girl asked you to supper and you did not want to go? (5) I used to ask my girl friend down to my house once in a while and she would come about a month ago we broke up, but we have made up since. Now I ask her down she does not come. Would you ask her down anyone? BLUE EYES.

(1) You are very young to marry but if all other circumstances are right, including a generous salary, it might be all right. The trouble is that a boy of twenty-one and a girl of eighteen can very seldom be sure of their own feelings. Better put it off a couple of years.

(2) Ten-thirty o'clock is late enough for young people to be together. It is better to leave earlier if you must go to work the next morning.

(3) Do not fight of course. Remain silent while she scolds and she will be ashamed.

(4) Tell her that you are tired when you get home from work and think it would be better to come later in the evening. Say that you like to be at home during the supper hour.

(5) I used to ask my girl friend down to my house once in a while and she would come about a month ago we broke up, but we have made up since. Now I ask her down she does not come. Would you ask her down anyone? BLUE EYES.

Household Hints

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

To keep shoes from slipping when new, put a small piece of surgeon's adhesive plaster on bottom of sole.

Prune Pies are improved by adding one teaspoon of vinegar to each pie. Prunes are rather flat tasting, so vinegar cuts the sweetness.

To stiffen Gingham, muslin and the like, dissolve a piece of alum the size of a hickorynut and stir into a pint of starch.

As Most Women like delicate, sweet scents, perhaps some may prefer perfume in this manner. Perfume in perfume drawers, boxes, etc. Pour a few drops of your favorite perfume on small pieces of pumice stone. Do not use the powdered pumice, as that does not absorb liquid.

If a Tablespoon of vinegar is put into the lard in which doughnuts are fried, it will prevent absorbing so much fat.

Green Leaves of Books—Many have prized books with leaves soiled by much handling. Take a clean rag, dip it in gasoline and rub the soiled parts lightly. When dry, the book will be found to be quite clean.

THE TABLE.

Graham Crackers—One-half cup and one-half cup sugar, add one-half teaspoon soda dissolved in one-half cup milk (sweet), one-half cup white flour; graham flour to roll thin. Bake in quick oven.

Meat Loaf—Mix well together half pound pork, half pound beef, one egg, parsley and onion chopped fine; salt and pepper to taste. Bake slowly one hour in moderate oven.

But Loaf—Put two shredded wheat biscuits and one cup walnut meats through the meat grinder. Mix with two eggs and one-half cup milk and salt. Bake twenty minutes and serve with tomato sauce.

Inexpensive Salad Dressing—One egg, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon flour, one-half teaspoon mustard, one cup diluted vinegar, pinch of cayenne pepper. Stir egg, flour, sugar, salt, mustard and cayenne pepper together or until smooth. Then add vinegar, stirring constantly. Keep in sealed jar and before using add cream, evaporated milk or whipped cream to make right consistency.

Lunch Muffins—One and one-half cups flour, one-half cup cornstarch, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, two eggs, three teaspoons corn syrup (white), one cup milk, three tablespoons melted butter. Sift all the dry ingredients together till thoroughly mixed. Beat eggs till light, then add milk and syrup. Stir in melted butter last. Bake in muffin tins in moderate oven.

Substitute For Whipped Cream—To the white of one egg add one-half banana, thinly sliced; beat to a stiff froth. Then add teaspoon of sugar (more if desired) and a few drops of vanilla; beat again—enough to mix these well into the egg. Keep very cold and serve as soon as possible.

Maple Mousse—One cup maple syrup; put in double boiler and let come to a boil. Put one teaspoon of gelatin in a little cold water to dissolve, then add to maple syrup. Pour over the beaten yolks of two eggs. Return to double boiler to thicken. Then let cool. Whip one cup cream and add beaten whites of two eggs to cream. Add other mixture, a little at a time, and beat thoroughly.

PRESERVED KUMQUATS.

One quart kumquats, two and one-half cups sugar, two cups water. Wash kumquats thoroughly, put on in cold water, boil up once, then drain. Make a syrup of the sugar and water, add kumquats and cook very gently until transparent (about two hours). The syrup should almost reach the crystallizing stage when the kumquats are finished.

Put the fruit in jars and pour over the syrup, which should be boiled down if not very thick.

This amount will fill four pint jars.

SALAD.

On a nest of head lettuce place a slice of pineapple, then a smaller slice of orange and on that arrange five strips of pimento, radiating from the center, in which is a little heap of mayonnaise. It gives the appearance of a poinsettia.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

J. B.'s Whiskers. I am afflicted with a superfluous growth of black hairs on my chin. Writes a mysterious stranger by the name of J. B. If you know of any treatment which will assist me, kindly let me know through your column.

ANSWER.—I have that same trouble, J. B. I find a flock of razors fairly effective, though the cure is not very permanent. Relapses occur with discouraging regularity. Possibly you are a lady, though your anonymity makes that doubtful. If you are one of the weaker sex, the only satisfactory treatment I can suggest is electrolysis.

Lengthening Eyelashes. Do you know or anything I can rub on my eyelashes to make them grow longer? Will yellow vaseline do good? I enjoy your articles immensely and have learned a great deal from them. I especially like your "In answering questions."

ANSWER.—I doubt whether anything will make the eyelashes grow. Yellow vaseline will at least do no harm. Perhaps an internal hormone therapy may do some good.

Menthol in Oil for Rhinitis. Some time ago you suggested a solution of menthol in oil for the treatment of acute head-colds. Please give the exact formula and mode of application. (P. S. W.)

ANSWER.—Ten grains of menthol dissolved in one ounce of liquid paraffin or olive oil. Tip back head and drop several drops in each nostril from medicine dropper, twice a day.

Let us leave the doctor thinking. It is his business to think, and good for the patient. We'll dismiss the patient with instructions to call tomorrow to hear the laboratory report.

WOMEN ARE HOPEFUL OF SUFFRAGE CAUSE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 16.—State suffrage leaders are in Madison today for the purpose, among other things, of formulating a plan of campaign before the legislature. While no definite steps have as yet been taken, and will not be until the convention meets, it is thought that but on suffrage bill will be introduced. This bill will provide for women having the presidential ballot.

active lobby will be maintained here by workers for suffrage and we have optimistic hopes of putting a suffrage law on the statute books.

Mr. Rex McCreery, Green Bay, is another prominent suffrage worker here for the convention. Mrs. McCreery will also be a member of the lobby during the winter. She will be remembered by a number of the members of the 1915 assembly for her efforts to create sentiment for the bill before the body, an attempt which was all but successful.

CUB OWNER CUTS PLAYERS' DOUGH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Chicago, Jan. 16.—President Weegman of the Cubs made big reductions in the salaries of six of his players. He would not announce what the new contracts called for, but name the players who suffered the cut. They are Tom Seaton, who drew $8,500; Jimmy Archer, $7,000; Jimmy Lavender, $6,000; Claude Hendrix, $6,000; Art Wilson, $5,500 and Rollie Zeider, $5,000. It is believed that the cuts were substantial in each case. Weegman declared that he made the reductions because he did not feel that the players had delivered their best efforts to the club last year. Zeider, Weegman said, was the only one of the six who tried last year, and his poor showing was due to being shifted all over the infield. Despite this, however, Weegman thought the player deserved no better than the others.

The plan of the Cleveland club is to send scouts to visit all the major league training camps in the spring, to get a line on recruits, so that, in case waivers are asked, Manager Cobb will know if the youngsters are worth claiming.

MULLEN, OLD SLAB STAR, NOW MANAGER

George Mullen, for years the star hurler of the Detroit Tigers, has been selected to manage the Fort Smith Western Association team next season. Mullen has seen almost twenty years of baseball service. He began with South Bend in 1899. Last season he managed a semi-pro team in Indiana and beat a number of the Central league teams in the course of the season. He had pitched for the Feds before organizing his semi-pro team.

MORRIS MILLER

Heine Groh, Red third baseman, always ranks high annually in the number of double plays started. In 1915 he set the major league record for performers at the hot corner by giving the impetus to twenty-seven of these tally smothering affairs, and last season he headed the tundra sappers of his own league in this respect, putting twenty-three in motion. Oscar Vitt of the Tigers had the same record in the American.

Walter Muranville, Braves' shortstop, who holds the major league record for inaugurating double plays, again led last season, but then did not equal his banner performance of 1914, nor approach closely the best 1915 mark. The Rabbit, who imitated his boss, P. D. Hughton, and did some football coaching this last fall, made the initial move in forty-five duplex killings this year, which was thirteen less than he launched in 1914 and five less than Charles Lincoln Herzog launched in 1915.

The Reds' former boss was runner-up to Muranville in 1916, being the pioneer participant in thirty-four such play retirements. Twenty at short, seven at second, and seven at third, Heine Groh led off in thirty-two duplex massacres; Johnny Lavan of the Browns, Robert Schoen of the Phillies, and Lawton Witt of the Athletics, in thirty-one; Eddie Collins of the White Sox, in thirty; Bruno Betzel of the Cardinals, in twenty-eight; Larry Doyle of the Giants, and Cubbie in twenty-seven, and Arthur Fletcher of the Giants, in twenty-five. Of Groh's double plays twenty-three were started from third, eight from second, and one from short.

The Minneapolis club announces the signing of two Cubans, one a catcher and one an infielder. The catcher is Ricardo Correa and the infielder Fidelito. Both have done good work with teams in Cuba.

Dode Paskert, outfielder of the Phillies, has a new pitching machine which he thinks will solve the problem of hitting practice and he is trying to interest several managers in it. The contrivance may be all he claims for it, but if a machine is to do the pitching for batters what sort of work will be found for the rookie twirlers who clutter up the field?

Manager Fred Mitchell of the Cubs is strong for Jimmy Sheek and believes the veteran outfielder will be of much aid to him as a coach of the young players he hopes to develop. Talk has it that Mitchell will give Lester a trial in the infield, but that seems idle, for he has been quoted as saying his outfield is made up and he includes Mann as one of its members.

This Speaker, it is said, is trying to land Joe Wood a job with the Cleveland Indians. When they were with the Red Sox they were roommates. Walter Rehg, former member of the Red Sox, was recently held up in Wichita, Kan. Bandits took his $300 diamond scarfpin, $23, a knife and a gold watch.

Manager Wilbert Robinson, it is said, is inclined to think Alvin Doolan may be of use to him in drilling infielders and the veteran, who finished up the season with John McGraw may be taken on by the Dodgers.

Ed Hammill, a former University of Illinois pitcher, who last season was with the first independent team of Henry Hill, has been signed by the Poona club of the Three League which also announces the signing of several other first youngsters who have yet to get their professional experience.

The Los Angeles club of the coast league has made a deal with the St. Louis Browns by which it secured infielder Bobby Vaughn. He played with Portland last season, but was turned back to the Browns, who closed the sale to the Los Angeles outright and thus the Browns are relieved of another Federal league holdover.

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM OF DRY CONVENTION

Madison, Wis., Jan. 16.—Two days will be required in which to finish the business to come before the state mass convention of dries, which is to open here next Monday night with a speech by W. J. Bryan. Scarcely secured to the office of the former secretary of state in point of interest and importance is the talk on the practical politics of a dry campaign scheduled for the Tuesday morning following by Grant M. Hudson of Michigan, who was manager of the campaign in that state and put over a majority of 70,000 on the brewers and liquor dealers. Hudson not only will tell how the victory was won in Michigan, but he will help the Wisconsin dries in outlining a campaign for this state.

Following is the full official program of the dry convention as given out by the committee on arrangements:

Monday, 8 o'clock p. m., Stock Pavilion, University grounds, address by W. J. Bryan.
Meeting called to order by Dr. J. S. Leary, Milwaukee, president of the Anti-Saloon League, who will introduce the temporary chairman, Dr. H. B. Mahanah of Green Bay, who will introduce Mr. Bryan.
Tuesday, 9 a. m., Christ Presbyterian church, address by Grant M. Hudson, manager of Michigan dry campaign. Hon. P. L. Lincoln of Richmond Center will preside.
10 a. m.—Adjourn to assembly chamber of capital to witness the introduction of the referendum bill by Assemblyman W. T. Evjue.
10:45 a. m.—Christ Presbyterian church, discussion of ways and means of conducting statewide campaign for the referendum bill.
2 p. m.—Christ Presbyterian church, organization and adoption of statewide campaign program.

BRITISH NEWSPAPER URGES AGGRESSIVE POLICY WITH U. S.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Manchester, Eng., Jan. 16.—The British government's cancellation of the American $60,000,000 munitions contract justifies a sterner British naval policy the Manchester Daily Dispatch suggests editorially.
The cancellation means more than that Great Britain has overtaken her requirements in the way of becoming independent of American aid, the paper says.
"We do not under value American help in this war," it says. "Without it we should have been at a serious disadvantage. But America has provided us with munitions for the sake of our good graces. Every shell, every gun and every machine tool has to be paid for, or will inevitably have to be, in goods or gold."
But that is not all. Almost from the beginning of the war we have had it dinned into our ears that we must adopt a 'pussy-footed' gait in our exercise of seapower, lest we put up the backs of the Americans and cause them to shut down their supply of munitions. Now that we are getting into a position in which we can do without American help it is to be hoped that our diplomacy will pluck up enough courage to come from under the table."

ENGLAND WILL SOON ASK ANOTHER LOAN

New York, Jan. 16.—Great Britain is expected to ask another $250,000,000 loan from the United States through J. P. Morgan and company within the next forty-eight hours. This will make approximately $800,000,000 long as the collateral is kept liquid. It can be realized on by the bankers when the money is needed. Great Britain already has $300,000,000 in loans coming due in the United States between 1918 and 1921.

No objection is expected by Morgan from the Federal Reserve Board so long as the collateral is kept liquid. It can be realized on by the bankers when the money is needed. Great Britain already has $300,000,000 in loans coming due in the United States between 1918 and 1921.
